A GARDINER'S KALENDAR

FOR SOUTH-CAROLINA;

The Result of Many Years Experience, in the Middle and Southern Parts of the said Province.

JANUARY. Sow carrots for ſummer's uſe—Artichokes tranſplanted this month into rich mellow ground will bear in the fall—Sow parſley—Plant peaſe and beans—Sow cabbage for ſummer's uſe; when they come to the proper growth tranſplant them.—Sow ſpinnage for uſe and for ſeed: what you intend to preſerve for ſeed muſt never be cut; a ſmall quantity will yield plentifully in rich ground—During this month all kinds of fruit-trees may be tranſplanted. Prune fruit-trees, but obſerve the fig-tree will not bear pruning.

FEBRUARY. Sow cellery, cucumbers, melons, kidney-beans, ſpinnage, aſparagus, radiſhes, parſley; lettuce to be tranſplanted into ſhady places, which muſt be done when they are very young, and they muſt be watered every morning, for which purpoſe pond or rain water is the beſt—About the middle of the month plant dwarf and hotſpur peaſe; ſow onions, carrots and parſnips; plant hops, ſtrawberries and all kinds of aromatick, ſweet ſmelling, and ſavoury herbs. Plant out carrots, parſnips, cabbages and onions for ſeed next year—If the ſeaſon does not prove too wet, it is beſt for planting all ſorts of fruit-trees, except the fig-tree, which ſhould not be moved till March when the ſuckers may be taken from the roots of the old trees. If fruit-trees have not been pruned laſt month they muſt not be longer delayed. The middle of this month is beſt for grafting in the clift.

MARCH. Plant rounceval peaſe, and all kinds of kidney beans. Whatever was neglected or omitted laſt month may be done in this, with good ſucceſs, if the ſeaſon be not too dry; and if it is, you muſt water more frequently. Now you may tranſplant fig-trees.

APRIL. Continue to plant roſemary, thyme, lavender, and all aromatick herbs. Be careful to weed and water what was formerly planted. Lettuce, ſpinage, and all kinds of ſallads may be planted this month, to be uſed through ſummer, but they muſt be frequently watered, and ſhaded from the ſun.

MAY. This month is chiefly for weeding and watering; nothing ſown or planted does well.

JUNE. Sow carrots, parſnips and cabbage. If the weather be dry and hot, the ground muſt be well watered, after being dug deep and made mellow. Litter or ſtraw well rotted and laid pretty thick upon the beds where ſeeds ar ſown in the heat of the day and taken off at night, wi greatly haſten the growth. Clip evergreens and herbs fo drying, as thyme, ſage, carduus, lavender, roſemary, &c.

JULY. What was done laſt month may likewiſe be don in this. Continue to water, but in the evening only. To wards the end of the month ſow peaſe for the fall; wate ſuch things as are going to ſeed, and the goodneſs of you ſeed will reward your trouble. Turnips and onions may b ſown; leeks, ſcallions, and all of that tribe may be planted Many ſow turnips this month at full moon, and with goo ſucceſs.

AUGUST. Still continue to weed and water as before Sow another crop of hotſpur or dwarf peaſe. Sow turnips.

SEPTEMBER. Prepare the ground for the followin ſeeds, as you may expect frequent ſhowers of rain, viz. ſpin age, Dutch brown lettuce, radiſh, endive, another crop o peaſe and beans. Turnips may be ſown—Now you ma inoculate with buds.

OCTOBER. Dreſs your artichokes; take all ſuckers fro the roots; leave no more than three in a hill; put dung we rotted to the roots, or dung well rotted mixed with untrie earth which is better: untried earth is rich mellow moul taken up about half a foot under the ſurface of good ne land, and is indeed excellent manure in moſt, if not in all caſes. Plant the ſuckers of artichokes in holes of about foot ſquare and two feet deep, filled with the aforeſaid earth Sow large crops of Windſor and garden beans, lettuce, ra diſhes, endive. Cellery ſown in the laſt ſpring may no be ſet out for blanching. Trim and dreſs your aſparagus beds in the following manner: in the beginning of th month cut down the haums or the ſtalks, lay them over th beds and burn them; then dry the earth about the roots an make the bed level; and laſtly cover up, about three finger depth, with rotted ſtable dung and untried earth—Continu to inoculate.

NOVEMBER. In the beginning ſow peaſe, earth u cellery, and tie up endive for blanching. Continue to ſo ſeeds, as parſley, ſpinage, radiſhes and lettuce of all kinds In the beginning, you may trim and dreſs your aſparagus beds as mentioned before, if not done laſt month. Toward the end begin to prune fruit-trees, eſpecially vines, whic may now be done with ſafety.

DECEMBER. This month is chiefly for the managemen of the orchard. Plant and prune all manner of fruit-trees. You may likewiſe plant roſe-trees and the like, and prepar ground for tranſplanting in the ſpring.

A GARDINER'S KALENDAR
FOR NORTH-CAROLINA;

Being the conſtant Practice of the late GEORGE NICHOLS, Eſq; whoſe Garden excelled all others in or near the Latitude of Cape-Fear; and, ſince his Deceaſe, followed with great Succeſs. Recommended to the Publick by Dr. SAMUEL GREEN of Wilmington, from his own Experience, as well as that of many others.

JANUARY. Plant in a ſouth aſpect as much as poſſible this month; ſow cabbage, lettuce, creſſes, ſpinage, cellery, carrot and parſnip ſeeds, peaſe, beans; plant ſweet herbs, roſe trees; tranſplant all ſorts of trees, though better done in the fall: towards the latter end of this month, prune vines in good weather, that is not windy; when vines bleed, open the roots, water them well with cold water; plant onions, and ſow onion ſeed; ſow parſley, turnips; prune trees, dig and manure your land.

FEBRUARY. Graft all trees and vines, put them half-way in water for ſome days to make them ſwell, before you put them in the ground to take root; prune trees of all ſorts; ſow beans, peaſe, cabbage, lettuce, carrots, parſnips and turnips, after full moon; ſow cucumbers, melons, and cover them every night from froſt; dreſs aſparagus and artichokes; ſow creſſes, talſafy, chervil, ſpinage; tranſplant aſparagus: the beginning of this month plant eddoes, raſberries; ſow cellery, kidney-beans, ſtrawberries; plant onions for ſeed; tranſplant artichokes, beets, and all ſorts of herbs.

MARCH. Plant French beans, ſo as to come up a few days after full moon; for fear of froſt cover them at night with moſs. The latter end of this month, plant fig-trees, ſow all the cabbage kind; and alſo, in any month in the year, if not too dry; plant cotton, pompions, cucumbers, and all of that kind, jacatoes, tomatoes, badenjeans, eddoes, yams, potatoes, beans, and every thing that ſuffers by froſt; exactly at full moon ſow ſtock julyflowers, plant out cabbage, ſow aſparagus, ſpinage, lettuce; plant out ſweet herbs; ſow collyflowers, water the roots when planted out, but not the leaves; onions, creſſes, muſtard, cellery, radiſhes, melons, cucumbers, and ſow pepper.

APRIL. Set French beans every month until September, cucumbers, melons, and tranſplant cabbage, lettuce, ſpinage, ſallading of all ſorts, and plant pepper.

MAY. Plant cucumbers, melons, and ſow cabbage ſeed for winter cabbages, clip evergreens and garden herbs in ſhowery weather; in rainy weather plant out cabbages, and all of that kind, lettuce, radiſhes; and when you plant ou your lettuce, cover them in the heat of the day.

JUNE. The ſame as the foregoing month.—Keep you garden free from weeds; clip evergreens and herbs in ſhower weather.

JULY. Tranſplant cabbage for winter; ſow turnips carrots, parſnips; the beginning of this month ſow Engliſ peaſe, tranſplant cellery for blanching; ſow cabbage ſeeds i perfect dry weather, in decline of the ſun, never let ther fully ripen on the ſtalks, cut them down, and let them dr in the ſun, till you find they ſhell of themſelves.

AUGUST. Tranſplant your cabbage kind for the la time; ſow cabbage ſeed for early cabbage in the ſpring after full moon ſow onions, beets, creſſes, chervil, radiſhes endive, lettuce, ſpinage; tranſplant cellery and herbs i rainy weather, plant out onions; ſow turnips, carrots, cu cumbers for pickling, kidney and ſix weeks beans.

SEPTEMBER. Releaſe inoculated buds when you ſe them ſwell, for fear of their choaking; do the ſame as la month; plant tuberoſes, ſow larks-heels, corn-ſallad, all th onion kind ſoon, and ſet out the lettuce and all kind of ſa lading, except cellery, which is to be tranſplanted for late In caſe the ſeeds ſowed laſt month fail, ſow over again; plan Windſor beans and peaſe.

OCTOBER. Plant beans and peaſe in full of the moon plant ſtalks for grafting, and trees, from this month to Fe bruary; do what you have neglected in the former months tranſplant lettuce; endive, cellery; onions, muſt be plante in rich low ground; when they grow big twiſt the tops when froſt nips aſparagus, lay them down, and cover then with half rotten litter or dung; tranſplant cabbages an ſhallots; ſow lettuce, radiſhes, creſſes and ſpinage.

NOVEMBER. Continue to ſow peaſe and beans; tranſ plant endive, open your artichokes and dung them, ſallading and radiſhes in wet ſeaſons; plant all ſorts of trees, whic you may do in open weather until February.

DECEMBER. Plant peaſe, beans, cabbage for the ſpring ſpinage, & ſame as laſt month; ſow onions in the twelve days

To have good Seed.

WHEN the weather begins to grow ſo cold that you ma reaſonably expect a froſt, take up your beſt cabbages, ra diſhes, turnips, carrots, parſnips, &c. and put the roots ir dry ſand in a warm cellar, or ſome other place where the will not freeze: in the ſpring, as ſoon as they begin to bud which they will do in the ſand, plant them out to run t ſeed. This method of raiſing ſeed, will prevent its dege nerating.

Eſquires by Creation

Esquires by Office, or reputed Esquires, only during the Time they are in Office and no longer, as High-Sheriffs, Justices of the Peace, &c.	Gentlemen Citizens Burgesses Yeomen.

By the TREATY of UNION, ratified and confirmed as fundamental and unalterable by the Parliament of both Kingdoms, ART. XXIII. "All Peers of Scotland, and "their Successours to their Honours and Dignities, are "PEERS of GREAT-BRITAIN, and have Rank and Pre- "cedency next, and immediately after, the Peers of the "like Orders and Degrees in England at the Time of the "Union, May 1, 1707, and before all Peers of Great-Britain "of the like Orders and Degrees, created after the Union."

THE Precedency among Men being known, that due to Women is easily demonstrated, observing that Women before Marriage have Precedency by their Father, with this Difference between them and the Male Children, that the same Precedency is due to all the Daughters that belongs to the eldest.

By Marriage a Woman participates of her Husband's Dignities, but none of the Wife's Dignities can come by Marriage to the Husband, but are to descend to her next Heir.

If a Woman have Precedency by Creation or Birth, she retains the same though she marry an Inferiour; but if a Woman nobly born, though a Duke's Daughter, marry an Inferiour, she has no Precedency but from her Husband.

A Woman privileged by Marriage, with one of noble Degree, retains the Privilege derived from her Husband, though he should be degraded by Forfeiture, &c. for Crimes are Personal.
